

ChairDNA is a chair design tool that allows users to explore a wide diversity of chair types, restricted to adequate anthropometric standards. Chairs can be generated from scratch by adding or deleting chair components and editing their dimensions and positions. Users can also import iconic designs from a library and produce random chairs.

Project ChairDNA design tool
Year 2014-2020
Client ChairDNA PhD project
Design Sara Garcia
Website <http://chairdna.wordpress.com>

